The atmosphere was very informal and relaxing. Any ideas or problems can be discussed with other members to draw inspiration. Also, we arranged training occasionally on coffee time. The coffee time talks were very popular with all members.
Sports activities March – November, 2011

Our chapter always encourages members doing some physical exercises during their spare time. In chilling winter time in Beijing, there is a strong need for indoor activities. Last winter our chapter supported to reserve one or two badminton courts every Saturday in 2008 Olympic Table-Tennis Stadium in Peking University. We also bought several pairs of battledores and one dozen badmints. This activity provided an extremely comfortable environment for members to take physical exercises and relax their minds after one week’s scientific research.

Spring travel June 3, 2011

The spring travel was held on the first weekend of June. We went to Longqingxia landscape, which is one of the most famous scenic spots in suburb of Beijing. Members of our chapter were busy working for academic affairs on weekdays, so going out for a travel together was a very exciting activity.
